Veterinarians and Animal Care Professionals Partner up

Life-long learning is the backbone for professional success and continued professional growth is only possible with quality continuing education. Veterinarians are no stranger to these concepts. The animal care industry is experiencing record growth and pet parents are demanding quality care and professional standards. The Professional Animal Care Certification Council (PACCC) requires all credentialed professionals to complete continuing education to maintain certification and professional standards, however quality CE for animal care can be scarce. But this is the 21st century, and the PACCC recognizes the value of technology! “Chats with the Chatfields”, one of the most popular veterinary podcasts, is the first streaming show approved for CE by the PACCC! Now, PACCC-certified professionals can check the show notes to confirm episode approval, listen or watch the show to obtain the PACCC code and earn quality CE towards certification maintenance for free while laughing at the veterinary hosts’ antics.

The first episodes carrying PACCC approval codes are already LIVE on Apple Podcasts, Spotify, Pandora, and on all the podcast directories! Additionally, for more visual folks, episodes can always be found on Youtube at <https://www.youtube.com/c/chatfieldshow> or find all things “Chats...” at ChatfieldShow.com.

ABOUT “CHATS WITH THE CHATFIELDS”

Created and co-hosted by twin zoo veterinarians Dr. Jenifer and Dr. Jason Chatfield, “Chats with the Chatfields” provides a unique brand of edu-tainment that appeals to both pet lovers and veterinarians. The show brings animal folks and veterinary professionals together in interesting and authentic conversations about diverse issues. Thought leaders and business leaders alike find their way into the “Chat Room” to tackle such topics as cryptocurrency, antimicrobial resistance, the medicine of bees, and much more – all mixed with down-to-earth perspectives and laughter. Known for both their veterinary-science smarts and humorous banter, this dynamic sibling duo created the world’s first veterinary podcast to be a finalist for the People’s Choice Podcast Awards. Find more about these unique siblings in a recent profile by Pet Vet magazine.

Find “Chats with the Chatfields” on the show website, YouTube channel, and on all the major podcast apps, including Apple podcasts, Spotify, Pandora, and Stitcher.

ABOUT THE PROFESSIONAL ANIMAL CARE CERTIFICATION COUNCIL

The Professional Animal Care Certification Council (PACCC) non-profit organization created by a team of industry experts to recognize high quality providers and help them meet the challenge of educating pet parents on the value of a pet care provider’s investment in education and training. Independent certification, using testing from industry developed standards, clearly identifies the premier professional animal care providers in our industry. Both providers and pet parents benefit from the implicit distinctions a reputable and objective third party certification provides. PACCC awards three levels of certification to recognize the expansive knowledge required and basic career levels in the industry: Certified Professional Animal Care Provider (CPACP), Certified Professional Animal Care Manger (CPACM), and Certified Professional Animal Care Operator (CPACO). All PACCC Certified Professionals are bound by a Code of Ethics that ensures the well-being of the pet always comes first and that business practices are conducted with ethics, morals and integrity.
