YOU'RE OUR KIND OF ANIMAL.

ANIMAL HEALTH. IT TAKES ALL KINDS.

So what is Animal Health?

From the pets we love to the animals who feed our world, the Animal Health Industry is as large and varied as the animals we serve. And our goal is to keep them happy, healthy and thriving. Animal Health is the industry that is full of companies with the jobs, products and services designed to meet that goal.

The Animal Health Industry is crucial to the world.

That may sound like an exaggeration, but it's true. Animal Health plays a critical role in both global and local well-being. It helps protect people from zoonotic diseases which spread from animals to humans. It keeps our food supply safe and sustainable. Plus it supports the humane care of all the animals. Animal Health is a multi-billion-dollar global industry with significant influence, closely linked to agriculture, biotechnology, and tons of consumer products we see every day.

We need people like you in animal health.
